

THE GREENBACK FIGHT

OR 1875 is Being Repeated Over in Ohio This Year.

JOHN SHERMAN'S RECOLLECTIONS.

The Republicans, He Says, are Not Only Fighting for Protection, but for an Honest Dollar—Substitute the Word Silver for Greenbacks and the old Speeches Will do Over Again—This is the Real Presidential Battle.

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 19.—Senator Sherman is now at his home in this thriving city, preparing for a battle which, if he wins, will send him to the Senate for the sixth term. It is forty-three years since he entered political life, and he is now sixty-eight.

"People outside of Ohio and many of them even in the State," he said to-day to a correspondent, "do not seem to understand this campaign. Every Republican who reveres the memory of his party should be made to understand that there is another and perhaps a graver question than the tariff to be settled in Ohio this year. We are brought face to face with the great financial problem which we all thought had been settled in the great war of 1875, when Hayes won the fight for an honest dollar with Governor Allen, who represented the liberal currency idea. Then it came in the guise of greenbacks and now it comes in the garb of free silver."

"This is an exactly similar fight, except we have to join hands on the tariff and fight for two vital questions instead of one."

"Now, after sixteen years, the same subject is up in a different garment. There were wide differences of opinion in both parties then, and there are to-day, and this carries an element of uncertainty into the calculations on the result. If you substitute the word silver for greenbacks the arguments to-day are identical with the arguments made then. Democrats declare for unlimited coinage; we declare against it. The 'armies' Alliance comes in on a raid both on the tariff and silver, as allies of the Democrats. They are an unknown, but do not seem to be a very potent quantity. They are not influencing our Republican farmers very much."

"The indifference of our friends outside the State is our danger. The whole country helped us with money and workers almost without limit in the Greenback campaign. It is different this year. The people of the East do not seem to understand the situation."

"The papers are full of words about the tariff question, and seem to be wholly unimpaired of the fact that it is by no means the only important question up for consideration, but I have too much faith in the Republicans of the country to believe that when they understand the situation they will fail to arouse themselves to the necessities of the hour. Let us be defeated in Ohio this year upon this free silver question, and how is it possible for us to elect a President in 1892?"

"This is not the preliminary skirmish of the campaign; it is the battle; and while the Democrats are divided upon this question, it must be borne in mind that it is a party of severe discipline and Democrats do not often stay away from the polls or fail to vote the ticket. But I have no fears of the result. We have won harder fights than this. But it is well that the people of the country be informed of the issues. Should we be defeated, however, the blow will fall hard upon the great financial centers of the East and upon the workmen all over the country."

"The Democracy, although committed to free silver, seems to push the tariff as the main issue, and that the financial question is an incident. This is natural, on account of the wide difference in its own party upon the silver question. Two-fifths of the convention which nominated Campbell was strongly opposed to unlimited coinage. But it never pays to belittle the enemy. In a fight like this precaution should be taken. Free silver would cheapen the purchasing power of the workmen's dollar. He could not compete with the merchant or manufacturer who could mark up his wares to meet the inflation standard every hour if he chose, while the laboring man would find it very difficult to get his wages advanced proportionately. Even if he did, how much better off would he be?"

"The man who is earning a dollar and a half a day and the farmer who is getting a dollar and a half for a bushel of wheat, would find that under free silver the purchasing power of that dollar and a half would very rapidly drop to a dollar and a quarter, and that the twenty-five cents' loss would fall, not upon the merchant or manufacturer, but upon the man who labors, or who tills the soil. That is the inexorable law of trade, because the price of commodities is fixed by the market of the world and cannot be changed by any local legislation or vagaries of any single country."

Plunged a Stiletto Into His Side.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—An altercation which ended in a row took place among a lot of Italians in front of No. 40 Mulberry street last night about 11 o'clock. During the course of the fight Angelo Ruffo, of No. 65 Mulberry street, drew a stiletto and plunged it into the left side of Vincenzo Bucheo, of No. 94 Park street.

The wounded man fell to the sidewalk, the blood pouring from the wound, while several bystanders grabbed Ruffo and held him until the police arrived and took him to the Elizabeth street station, where he was locked up. Bucheo was taken to the Chambers street hospital, where it was said that his wound was a very dangerous one.

Minor's Valuable Dog Runs Amuck.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A large St. Bernard dog, valued at $500, and belonging to Harry C. Miner, the theatrical manager, caused much excitement at the railroad station this afternoon. Mr. Miner has a villa on the banks of the Shrewsbury river at East Red Bank, and the dog accompanied his carriage to the station. The animal attacked and bit a dog belonging to Samuel John Cooper. Mr. Miner's dog showed signs of rabies, and started on a wild run followed by many men and boys. The animal bit several other dogs before it was finally shot by one of Mr. Cooper's hired men.

An Italian Down a Highwayman.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Cesari Gabrielle, an Italian barber, of 312 East 102d street, came down town Sunday afternoon and stopped to buy some peaches at the corner of Barclay and West streets. Just when Gabrielle had $4 in his hand Frank Wilson, who says he is from New Jersey, came along and grabbed it, and ran away. The Italian caught Wilson, knocked him down, and took back his money. Detective Mallon and McAdam, of the Steamboat Squad, arrested the Jerseyman. They brought him before Justice Divar at the Tombs yesterday morning. Wilson was held for trial.

NEW REPUBLICAN PAPER.

An Evening Daily at the President's Home, with an Anti-Editor.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug. 19.—For a few days a great many of the faithful have been circulating blanks for subscriptions for a new evening paper that is to be called the Indianapolis Republican. As one of the promoters of the enterprise said: "The Sentinel is Democratic, the New is 'agin' us, and the Journal is administrative, so we have to start a new paper in order to give Republicans a show." The enterprise in receiving the encouragement at the hands of Editor Mercer, of the Gazette and the Republican county committee, and it is asserted that already over 3,000 subscriptions have been secured. Mercer, who has fierce anti-administration whippers, said that the backer of the new paper was an Ohio journalist of wealth, who had been out of the business three or four years, and that unlimited funds would be raised. The matter is contingent upon the voluntary subscription list of 5,000 names.

Some say that A. L. Conger, of Akron, Ohio, is the backer of the paper, others say that it is the consummation of a scheme by which every county in the State is to take $1,000 worth of stock, and J. N. Huston enough more to swell the total to $150,000.

Quick Work by a Boston Thief.

BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 19.—Jeweller H. B. Greene, of No. 15 Cornhill street, left his store for one minute yesterday afternoon, and in that time a robber entered and stole $700 worth of watches.

The store is on the second floor, and Greene walked down the stairs to the street leaving the door unlocked. He was gone from his office less than a minute.

When he was returning a man rushed past him on the stairs. On looking at the place where he had left the watches he found that eleven of them had disappeared. Four gold watches of his own were also stolen. The theft was reported at police headquarters and officers detailed on the case.

She Outlived the Thief.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The sailing schooner C. H. White, Captain Widdison, arrived yesterday evening from Ounalaska. She is the vessel that ran away from the Thetis in Bering Sea on July 7, as reported by Captain Reiter to the Navy Department recently. The captain says he had not received any notification to leave the sea, and when the Thetis bore down on him he fled and succeeded in avoiding capture. He left the sea on learning it was filled with war ships. Under instructions from Washington, a charter has been effected with the Alaska Commercial Company to bring away the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey party.

Count Von Moltke's Memoirs.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—The relatives of the late Count von Moltke often urged the Count during his life to write a history of the war of 1870. The Count always replied that all necessary information could be found in the archives of the general staff.

On one occasion he admitted to his nephew that the staff history was intended for experts and was too elaborate for the general public. If needed, he added, an abstract of the history could be made. Thereupon the nephew placed the whole work upon his uncle's desk, and the Count accepting the suggestion, wrote the work contained in his memoirs in a popular and succinct style.

Asiatic Russia's Great Resources.

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Samarland, capital of the province of Zorishan, Asiatic Russia, states that Captain Barabinsky, the explorer, has arrived there; on an expedition into eastern Bokhara. The captain reports that he there discovered large deposits of gold, lead and iron and says that petroleum springs in abundance are to be met with in the same region.

Let Them do as They Please.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Times argues that many of the office-seeking abuses in the United States are due to the power to re-elect the President, and it would be better if re-elections were forbidden. The Times is of opinion that the argument against such a change appears in Mr. Cleveland's question, "What shall we do with the ex-Presidents?"

The Sub-Treasury's Death Blow.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 18.—Senators George and Walthall, now have ninety-three legislative votes, which are three more than they need to secure their election. Barksdale, the Sub-Treasury candidate, has only thirty votes. Fifty-five votes are in doubt. The Sub-Treasury plan has unquestionably received its death blow in Madison, Wis.

CUT HIS ARM AND DIED.

A Suicide Whose Troubles Dated from a Boycott a Union Put on Him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Until 1876 Matthias Wagner, a German 72 years old, who worked in the east side shops, was a union tailor. Then he left the organization because some were offended when he protested at their spending so much money for beer at picnics.

After that it was hard for him to get work except at the smaller places, and at last the little money he could earn failed to support him and his wife. Mrs. Wagner, who is 63 years old, went out daily washing. For the past three months her husband did nothing and showed evidences of insanity.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock Mrs. Wagner came home from work and found the door of their room at 233 First avenue locked. She got assistance, and the door was broken in.

Wagner lay in the corner of the room. The sleeve of his right arm was rolled up, showing that with a table knife that lay near by he had cut a deep gash in the upper part of his forearm. The blood that had flowed from the wound was caught by a dishpan placed underneath. The tailor was dead.

On a table was a letter addressed to the coroner. It was a rambling, disconnected statement, in which Wagner said ill things of his wife and his landlady. Mrs. Kumpf, he had written that these troubles, in addition to his inability to pay the rent, were the cause of his suicide. The wife denies the allegations of her husband.

A Great Success.

I do not know of a case that was lost during our epidemic of bloody flux, in this county where Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy was used. One of my friends, about six miles from here, had a child that was given up by the two doctors who attended it. He then used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and the child recovered. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. P. E. LAVENDER, P. M., Chestnut, Amherst county, Va. For sale by C. R. Goetze, W. W. Irwin, John Klari, C. Schnepf, C. Menckmiller, W. S.
